City of Monroe Asks for Public Participation in a Survey for the Louisiana Development Ready Communities Program

(Monroe, LA) The City of Monroe is participating in the Louisiana Development Ready Communities Program (LDRC Program), which is designed to enhance community competitiveness by focusing on economic development capacity and readiness at local levels.

The initiative raises awareness of the processes of economic development and the necessary factors to achieve success. It provides community leaders with clear direction on specific resources needed to foster successful economic development while increasing collaboration between municipal, parish, regional, and state economic development practitioners.

We are asking for the community's participation. You can fill out the survey at the link below:
